

Transcript of Soldiers of Christ Online interview with Kellie-Jay Keen in September 2020 (Tab 45)

Parties: Kellie-Jay Keen (KJK); Host (Host); Unidentified Male (UM)

UM: Rolling. Action.

5 Host: Alright, hello again everybody. This is everybody knows is Posie Parker.

KJK: Hello.

10 Host: She is standing for women.com. Everybody please visit it who believes in the female gender, basically. And as we all know on SOCO, God made man and he made them male and female. So I just wanted to have a quick like debrief because it's been lunacy today, literally like on all sides, like open air asylum type stuff. So Posie, are you used to this yet? And when are you gonna just stop terrorising these poor victims?

15 KJK: Probably never. Am I used to it? Yeah, I think actually it's really useful. So if you, so basically we're talking and then Black Lives Matter go marching and they, Black Lives Matter is very swiftly turned from centring Black lives, which I don't actually believe ever centred black women or children, and it switched into trans, black trans lives matter. And so that's like a fundamental aim of the movement. And so they were just walking past and then we started shouting trans women and men and---

Host: In a non provocative manner, obviously.

20 KJK: And it's really interesting how these people feel, because I think they're actually trapped in cult, that they feel that by any means necessary to shut women up. So that will include they will, they will frame our words as violence so they can literally be violent. So they did. They kicked a few people in our crowd. They pushed quite a lot of people. Someone stole one of my signs. And I actually think that sort of thing then shows the rest of the country who are kind of meekly just going oh it's not great. It shows them really what we're up against which is a really phenomenal enemy against women's rights and children's bodies.

25 Host: Okay, so what I'd add to that is you may have seen Posie on the mainstream, but then again you may not have if you rely on not paying a TV licence, which you all shouldn't including pensioners, please God, don't do it. I'd love to see you all in court literally. And also by the way, women, the majority of female offenders are in prison for TV licence evasion. You couldn't make it up. So then they're convicted criminals, like nobody actually cares what your offence is by the time you get to a job interview or a mortgage application. So you may not see this stuff on the mainstream. The bottom line is, as we all know, again, like women are women. I gave a little tiny speech for Posie's like videos and organisation, but I'll just say again and you may understand or you may not. The testicular fortitude of these ladies who say that they want to be ladies but the other female born humans, it's hateful to say that only women get cervical cancer, for example. You may not have got the memo. I did and immediately threw it in the bin. So I can't swear, I can, but I'm gonna do that off camera. Like, please consider your daughters, your sisters, your aunties, your grandmother. Come on, your elderly grandmother is a woman. There is no like, no. If she wanted to be called Henry tomorrow, she is still a woman. If she had some hugely dramatic physical surgery, which didn't reduce her potential to suicide as a body dysmorphic transgender person, she would unfortunately, Grandma, still be a woman.

35 KJK: And more importantly, with the grand-, talking about your grandmothers, this is really important that what she can no longer do if men can just identify as women, she can no longer ask for somebody who comes in her home and takes care of her because she can't take care of herself anymore. She can't insist on a woman and guarantee that she gets a female. She can't do that anymore. She can't be on a hospital ward and guarantee that there isn't a man calling himself a woman in the next bed.

45 Host: Because she's a bigot. Obviously bigoted.

50 KJK: You know, this is impacts. So somebody calls it death by a thousand cuts. That's pretty much what's happening to women's rights. It's tiny little incremental changes. Soon for the Muslims that gather here it's gonna be bigoted and wrong for them to stop a man in a hijab sitting on the wrong side of the mosque. It's gonna hit everyone. It's gonna be in your kids' schools. Please, if you haven't done it already ask for a copy of what your kids are learning in PSHE and RSE. It's fundamental that you do this. I mean, you and I have different ideas about religion, but this is the new religion that you can't object to. You can stop probably your kids learning about certain faiths. You can stop that. You can't stop them learning that trans women are women, and it's possible to change your biological sex. You can't stop it.

55

Host: So just another quick couple of thoughts. If a man decides to become a man who no longer has a penis and has a constructed vagina surgically, he still has the same bone density and the same DNA that he was born with. If he then chooses potentially to become an MMA fighter, he's battering women, like there's no other way around it. He's obviously going to win because he is stronger, like there's nothing sexist about saying that men are typically stronger, physically, than women.

60

KJK: [?].

65 Host: Not emotionally I doubt, but then I'm a sexist, racist bigot, obviously. So, like, yeah, little girls and little boys, there's a six year old boy at the moment in America who the court has deemed that his mother has the right to make him into a girl against his father's wishes and against his express wishes. He's a six year old boy. Like when I was six I thought I was an astronaut for a whole week and my mother didn't phone NASA.

70 KJK: What!

Host: I know she's a bigot, a racist mum who is a Christian. Anyway, the point is that children, like even if this child wanted to be a girl, he's a child and that's why we don't give children the rights that we give to adults. And unfortunately, like I'm not the first one to come out in support of Islam or Judaism really or any other religion, but most of the major world religions recognise that there are gods and goddesses, men and women, male and female, and to say that there are 73 genders to go by what Facebook says, please. People it's pictures of dinner and it's like all nonsense really. And like the algorithms are manipulated and there are echo chambers of far left, like dodgy people. So please do consider your own sex and thank God for it if you are a theist because it was given to you for a reason and you function better in society as you, as God plans for you, and even if you're an atheist, listen to science up until about 15 years ago when we all knew where we stood because science again is manipulated and like the consensus of climate scientists, like potentially 70 geezers, or women. I'm not sexist. Yeah feminism was feminism then it was second wave, and now it's hateful to put the word woman into cervical screening literature. So potentially there are women who are not having their smear test because it's hate speech, I don't even know where it ends.

75

80

85 KJK: Except in Canada where there was a special cervical cancer page for transwomen.

Host: Where are you gonna keep the foetus? In a box? The Life of Brian has come true people. I only said that fish was good enough for Jehovah. Like I don't deserve to be stoned for it. I just don't know what's happening. There's an emperor somewhere with no clothes on, potentially testicles, and someone saying what a lovely lady he is. So like, in all seriousness, they're our children. Like even those of you who are childless, they are our children as a society. We don't want them being married off to adult men. We don't want them being sexualised and abused because it's abuse to teach a child something that's unnatural. There are, like there's a tiny little drag queen in America who's like dancing provocatively for men and getting money and everyone thinks it's a hoot. There are women jumping up in defence of Drag Queens, the NSPCC, the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, you couldn't make it up, has partnered with Drag Queen Story Hour UK, which is a lot of people with testicles and big eyelashes teaching them about gender in public libraries. And when the same thing happened in Canada and Dorre Love who, God bless him, went in and rebuked them biblically all of the mothers turned on him rather than the big dude in the make-up who had, like, potentially, you know, small children, like eating up their every word. So Twitter also has come out and said that if paedophiles want to talk about underage attraction and they're not breaking the law, they are free to do so. If they want nude

90

95

100

105 pictures of children, as long as they're artistic, and maybe in the style of Rafael, I don't know, that's also okay. It's really not okay. Come to parlour instead, we'll look after you. Like, just don't give your money or your time to organisations who promote paedophilia. If nothing else, if you wanna, like if a man wants to call himself Susan on a Wednesday, good luck to him. God bless him. I hope he, like I don't mind, really. I'm not knocking on doors like taking people's drawers or their lingerie like drawers, but in public Twitter is a recognised and trusted source of information 110 and if they promote actively paedophilia, please do leave them and encourage your friends also to do so. And I'll give the last word to you.

KJK: Keep following what's going on in your own sphere. Don't stop talking and I have to run along.

Host: Thank you so much.

UM: Thank you.

KJK: You're very welcome.

115 UM: Thank you. Bye-bye. Take care.

KJK: Nice to see you.

Host: You too.

[End of recording]