Women in Leadership. This week saw the appointment of yet another male, into the State Director role for the Liberal Party, Victoria. The candidate is not even from Victoria.

Overlooked, a strong female candidate. So it brings to mind, why?

Why is it difficult to find women for Leadership roles?

Is there still a gender bias? This article in HBR is quite interesting and raises many of the barriers for women. I can't say I agree with all of it.

Women are still underrepresented in politics, parliaments and public life. The stigma against women in politics is still alive and well. They continue to face structural, socioeconomic, institutional and cultural barriers.

Taking on this issue requires effort from every element
