

Moira Deeming – Statements and Comments

In a September 2020 interview, Moira Deeming describes those behind Victoria's Safe Schools program – introduced in 2010 to provide training for teachers to support LGBTQ+ students – as “pedophilia apologists” and said she “would rather lose [her] job than teach” the resources.

<https://www.theguardian.com/australia-news/2022/jul/26/my-number-one-issue-victoria-liberal-candidate-has-history-of-attacking-transgender-rights>

Councillors speak openly against mandates 20/12/2021

Crs Moira Deeming, Kathy Majdlik, Julie Shannon and Sophie Ramsey, and mayor Goran Kesic shared their opposition to the state government's introduction of different restrictions for vaccinated and unvaccinated people after Cr Ramsey raised a notice of motion calling for the council to write to Health Minister Martin Foley and the Department of Health to seek clarification about what forms of vaccine certificates are deemed valid.

Cr Deeming opposed the motion, saying that she could not align herself with any decision in relation to vaccines and mandates because “she does not agree with either of them”.

“I just don't want to be a part of anything that affirms segregation in any way, shape or form...I just believe that segregation via these coerced vaccine passports is immoral in and of itself, but I do understand the other side,” she said.

<https://meltonmoorabool.starweekly.com.au/news/councillors-speak-openly-against-mandates/>

“What of the intimidation of parents, teachers and doctors under horribly blunt anti ‘conversion therapy’ laws, which threaten criminal penalties for anyone who encourages children with gender dysphoria to try and find joy in their biological sex?”

“Nobody expected the Transgender Inquisition”, Spectator Australia, 10 September 2020

This statement could be generally construed as critical of the current anti-conversion therapy laws. Also indirectly places doubt on the psycho-medical legitimacy of gender dysphoria and that the condition can be dealt with by way of encouraging “children with gender dysphoria to try and find joy in their biological sex.”

<https://www.spectator.com.au/2020/09/nobody-expected-the-transgender-inquisition/>

"What of the humiliation and intimidation that women and children suffer when men invade their toilets, changerooms, rape shelters, sports teams and jobs with impunity? What about the offence caused when these "stunning and brave" men are cheered on and encouraged for terrifying women and children in this way?"

"Nobody expected the Transgender Inquisition", Spectator Australia, 10 September 2020

This statement could be construed as a generalisation regarding all transgender biological males and evocatively anti-trans.

<https://www.spectator.com.au/2020/09/nobody-expected-the-transgender-inquisition/>

Deeming, Moira

(August 20 2020). "The cultural juggernaut of transgender ideology: not kids' stuff". The Spectator Australia. Retrieved July 25 2022.

Canberra Weekly – February 22, 2023 New Liberal MP Moira Deeming hits out at 'extreme' equality

<https://canberraweekly.com.au/new-liberal-mp-moira-deeming-hits-out-at-extreme-equality/>

A new Liberal politician hit out at sex work regulations and opening female-only spaces to trans women as she took aim at the "extremes" of equality and unity. Western Metropolitan member Moira Deeming used her first speech to parliament to call for an inquiry into transition practices.

Ms Deeming blasted measures to include trans women in female-only change rooms and sports, claiming "what most women would consider to be sexual harassment and indecent exposure is now legal in Victoria". She also sounded off over sex work regulations and called on the government to reinstate sex-based rights in the law.

"Surely there must be ways to ensure the safety and dignity of trans people which do not trample on the rights of women and girls," Ms Deeming told the upper house on Tuesday.

In a 2020 interview, Deeming described Victoria's Safe Schools program as created by "pedophilia apologists", claimed teachers were actively trying to change children's gender and sexual identity and criticised initiatives aimed at celebrating gay and transgender students, saying they were "teaching them to be really narcissistic".

<https://twitter.com/anth0888/status/1637019257954500609?s=20>

Voters don't want a culture war': Victorian Liberals raise concerns over preselections

Candidates include Evan Mulholland from the Institute of Public Affairs and Moira Deeming, who called for abortion laws to be repealed.

<https://www.theguardian.com/australia-news/2022/jul/25/victoria-health-minister-accuses-liberals-of-selecting-anti-abortion-bernie-finn-clone>

Uses language that evokes racial segregation and draws a link between the two.

Moira's Comments in an article she wrote for The Daily Declaration

October 2021 – In an article for The Daily Declaration, a Christian news site, Deeming said rape victims should reject abortions and turn to God and church instead.

"Abortion is a terrible evil. Each one wounds a mother and father, murders an unborn child, and ends a whole family line... Young girls and women who find themselves with unplanned pregnancies are... too often, serious trauma from rape or coercion.

Where can these weeping, terrified, horrified daughters and granddaughters turn?

To the Lord! To the Church! To Christians! That is our instant, and passionate answer."

<https://blog.canberradeclaration.org.au/2021/10/17/day-17-stopping-a-terrible-evil/>

A Zoom re anti-abortion with Moira Deeming and Karina Okotel during lockdown when we weren't meant to go to other people's houses:

<https://www.theguardian.com/australia-news/2022/aug/03/moira-deeming-pictured-alongside-liberal-colleague-at-anti-abortion-zoom-meeting-during-melbourne-lockdown>

State Liberal candidate was deemed 'too extreme' for Scott Morrison's campaign (July 28, 2022)

<https://www.theage.com.au/politics/victoria/state-liberal-candidate-was-deemed-too-extreme-for-scott-morrison-s-campaign-20220725-p5b4g7.html>

(Excerpt)

..... In March, the Victorian branch's administrative committee voted for Deeming to run in Gorton. But after the preliminary vote and before the meeting formally endorsed her, a top party official in the meeting relayed the view of Morrison's office, which was that negative media coverage of Deeming's hardline social views could distract from the then prime minister's campaign.

Another vote was conducted and a different candidate picked, according to five sources who confirmed the events of the March 26 meeting. All were speaking anonymously because party rules prohibit public commentary.

Morrison's office believed that stances Deeming had taken publicly, including against COVID-19 vaccines and vaccine mandates, were likely to generate controversy the party was unwilling to absorb for a candidate in an unwinnable seat.

(Full Article)

State Liberal candidate was deemed 'too extreme' for Scott Morrison's campaign

Paul Sakkal

July 28, 2022 — 5.00am

KEY POINTS

- In March, the Victorian branch's administrative committee voted for Moira Deeming to run for the Liberals in the lower house seat of Gorton at the federal election.
- But Scott Morrison's office believed that Deeming's stances against COVID-19 vaccines and vaccine mandates were likely to generate controversy.
- Another vote was conducted and a different candidate picked, according to five sources speaking anonymously because of party rules.
- On Saturday, Deeming was chosen by Liberal Party members to replace outspoken MP Bernie Finn in the contest for the upper house western metropolitan region seat in the state election.

An anti-abortion candidate for the Victorian Liberal Party who opposes the rights of trans people was deemed too risky to run as part of former prime minister Scott Morrison's election team this year.

Melton City councillor Moira Deeming was preselected on Saturday to replace conservative MP Bernie Finn on the state upper house ticket, months after she was rejected as a candidate for the federal election for the Liberals in the lower house seat of Gorton.

Moira Deeming has been chosen by Liberal Party members to replace outspoken MP Bernie Finn in the contest for the upper house Western Metropolitan Region seat in the state election. JASON SOUTH

In March, the Victorian branch's administrative committee voted for Deeming to run in Gorton. But after the preliminary vote and before the meeting formally endorsed her, a top party official in the meeting relayed the view of Morrison's office, which was that negative media coverage of Deeming's hardline social views could distract from the then prime minister's campaign.

Another vote was conducted and a different candidate picked, according to five sources who confirmed the events of the March 26 meeting. All were speaking anonymously because party rules prohibit public commentary.

Morrison's office believed that stances Deeming had taken publicly, including against COVID-19 vaccines and vaccine mandates, were likely to generate controversy the party was unwilling to absorb for a candidate in an unwinnable seat.

A week later, gender activist Katherine Deves was handpicked by Morrison to run in the Sydney seat of Warringah, setting off weeks of national coverage of her at-times inflammatory remarks about trans people.

Prime Minister Scott Morrison was a defender of Liberal candidate for Warringah, Katherine Deves.

Deeming's preselection on Saturday for the top position on the state party's western metropolitan region ticket was also controversial within the party, according to sources speaking anonymously.

The day after the vote, a number of senior Liberals tried unsuccessfully to overturn the nomination, partly over the perception that Deeming was too hardline, but also for internal factional reasons.

Deeming, a mother of four, has said the new consciousness about gender fluidity and the implications of additional rights for trans people were her "number one issue". She was elected to Melton City Council in 2020 on a platform including advocating separate toilets for trans people and claimed the Safe Schools program aimed to prevent bullying against LGBTQ children was "sleazy, unnecessary drivel".

In December, the councillor asserted she could not support any motions related to COVID-19 mandates or vaccines because she did "not agree with either of them". "Mr Andrews, tear down these mandates," she posted on social media.

Right-wing Victorian MP Bernie Finn. JOE ARMAO

Deeming is a friend of Finn, who was expelled from the Liberal Party's parliamentary team in May for repeated unbecoming conduct, mostly on social media. The behaviour included depicting Premier Daniel Andrews as a Nazi and advocating that abortion should be prohibited for rape victims.

Finn told The Age it would be fair to describe Deeming, who he endorsed ahead of the preselection vote involving about 45 party members, as his protégé. He described her as intelligent and politically shrewd and said the vote proved people in Melbourne's west wanted a social conservative MP.

"People on the other side of Melbourne don't realise social conservatism in the west is very strong, even among Labor voters," he said, arguing he was a strong chance to win an upper house seat in the same western metropolitan region running as a Democratic Labour Party candidate at the November election. He currently sits in the upper house crossbench.

Finn said he aspired as a teen to be an MP for the DLP, the anti-communist Labor Party offshoot that emanated from the 1950s split but had no MPs between 1976 and 2006. Its last Victorian upper house MP lost their position at the 2018 election.

When the Liberals expelled Finn from the parliamentary party, Opposition Leader Matthew Guy said the party accepted diverse views, but he expected "people to uphold respectful discourse whatever their issues may be".

Guy said Deeming had expressed her views "in a fairly respectful way and she's entitled to have a different point of view from a lot of people."

The Age has been told Guy did not try to block Deeming's preselection once she was chosen by rank-and-file members. The devout Christian won more than twice the number of votes of her nearest rival in Saturday's vote.

Outgoing state party president Robert Clark and his allies – who were eligible to vote as party office bearers – backed her, even though they belong to faction that includes the party's more socially liberal members. The Clark faction has been the dominant group in the party for years, partly because of its association with a hardline religious grouping led by influential Christian activist Karina Okotel. Clark himself is a socially conservative Christian.

Members of the more mainstream conservative faction, connected to federal MPs such as Michael Sukkar and powerbroker Michael Kroger, opposed her preselection but did not have enough votes to obstruct it at a meeting of the administrative committee on Sunday.

Two party figures explained that Clark and his allies did not back Deeming because they agreed with her views. Rather, they insisted the final two candidates up against her in the last round of voting were unpalatable. They included Dinesh Gourisetty, who in 2019 pleaded guilty to breaches of the food act and paid $25,000 for running a filthy restaurant, and 69-year-old Fred Ackerman.

Another party operative added: “[Deeming] is not running for Hawthorn. Many people in migrant communities in the western suburbs would share some of her views. We’re not prepared to say there’s no room for those views in the Liberal Party. She was the most electable candidate and presented well.”

Deeming, who did not respond to repeated requests for comment, has expressed privately this week she would not be an outspoken culture warrior and would focus on policy areas such as education.

The Liberal Party’s culture places greater emphasis on the autonomy of local members to select members than does the Labor Party, whose collectivist philosophy lends itself to central decision-making. While this ethos helps to uphold principles of party democracy, it also makes it difficult for the party’s leadership to stop branch members – who may far be to the right of mainstream Victorians – picking candidates who align with their views.

A party member with local knowledge of the western suburbs said city-based and eastern suburban members underestimated Finn’s level of local support.

“Bernie is their guy. They thought he was doing a superb job and if they couldn’t have him back they’d get someone in similar vein. Now they found someone who’s even a stronger advocate on these issues,” he said.

<https://www.theage.com.au/politics/victoria/state-liberal-candidate-was-deemed-too-extreme-for-scott-morrison-s-campaign-20220725-p5b4g7.html>

Additional Material

Alternate Media Watchers

@AltMediaWatch

Neo Nazi, Neil Erikson approves of transphobe Moira Deeming being selected to replace Bernie Finn.

I think that speaks volumes about the type of person Moira is.

Neil Erikson

1.760 subscribers

Congratulations Moira Deeming, what a great pick for the position.

9 19:04

7:09 pm · 24/7/2022 · Twitter for iPhone

Kellie-Jay Keen ✓
@ThePosieParker

...

This chap @3AWNNeilMitchell is now promoting how great it is to lie to and sterilise kids. Jesus Christ. “Transition” involves sterilisation and obliterating sexual function. This means when those kids become adults they have no capacity for experiencing any sexual function.

9:40 AM · Mar 21, 2023 · 10.1K Views

Kellie-Jay Keen-Minshull (Posie Parker)

Keen-Minshull is on record saying she had not fully vetted her interviewers to check their beliefs, but added that her cause was too important to be fussy about which YouTube channel she appeared on. She has said she abhors “white supremacy and the racism that fuels it”, but that, as a free speech advocate she thought “dialogue, even with those with the most odious prejudices, is essential”.

<https://www.theage.com.au/politics/victoria/total-aryan-victory-nazis-the-only-ones-happy-after-parliament-protest-20230320-p5cto9.html>

Women’s Place disinvitation

May 2018 – Woman’s Place UK, a group that opposes gender self-identification for transgender people, disinvites Keen from a meeting based on objections to “her stated views on race and religion”.

June 2022 – Women’s Place UK release screenshots from Keen’s Twitter account, which were the basis of their 2018 disinvitation of her:

Posie"conscious rebel"Par...

@ThePosieParker

Blocked

Dear UK, it seems we are at a time where you can offend everyone except Muslims and trans women..... all the rest of you are expected to take it on the chin.

2:10 PM - 26 May 2018

Posie"conscious rebel"Parker

@ThePosieParker

Follow

A class of 7 year olds just walked past only 2/15 girls weren't wearing hijab. #ffs
#disgusting #islam #sexist
#eastonprimarysortitout

1:02 PM - 3 Jul 2017

Posie"under the bus"Parker

@ThePosieParker

Replying to @lubbuledotcom

No idea. But there are pockets of Bradford where the culture is not British. Like many ex pat communities they hold on to their past culture rather tightly. There was an all boys school that was 99.9% Pakistani Muslim. Awful place for women.

16/04/2018, 07:22

10 Likes

Hans Jørgen Lysglimt Johansen

A Norwegian economist and political activist. He is leader of the far-right party Alliance – Alternative for Norway.

Neo-Nazi comments

He is known for his neo-Nazi rhetoric, with regular racist and antisemitic statements. Here are examples of Tweets and other comments from Johansen railing against Jewish people and denying the Holocaust:

"If we do not settle the settlement with the globalist Jews now, in Norway led by the Jew [XXX], the Jewish lackeys in the Conservative Party, the Jewish lackeys in the Progress Party, they will knock through the UN's migration platform and then it will be over. You choose, what you are made of, what you stand for."

"They have a self-confidence now. A chutzpah like no other, now they will take home the victory. Europe will become an Arab country and a Negro country that they can easily rule."

"We have to take this settlement up front with the Jews now. We've had enough. I myself am sick as hell that the Jews will be allowed to push this false holocaust narrative."

"The Holocaust is a propaganda ploy, an incantation. Get over it."

Source: <https://antirasistisk.no/alliansen-alternativ-for-norge/> (in Norwegian, translated to English via Google Translate)

Other comments

Johansen has also expressed support for apartheid in South Africa, and insinuated that his opponents among politicians and press people in Norway should be executed in a future "treason settlement".

Source: <https://filternyheter.no/her-moter-alliansen-nestleder-kjente-nazister-holdt-tale-om-brorskap/> (in Norwegian, translated to English via Google Translate)

Police investigation

Johansen's racist and antisemitic statements drew the attention of Norway Police's "hate crime group", who were reported as investigated Johansen in 2018.

Source: <https://www.dagsavisen.no/innenriks/star-bak-verbale-angrep-mot-joder-og-det-falske-holocaust-narrativet-1.1249781> (in Norwegian, translated to English via Google Translate)

Support for Anders Behring Breivik

Anders Behring Breivik is a Norwegian far-right domestic terrorist, known for committing the 2011 Norway attacks, killing 77 people.

In a 2021 video, Johansen stated he supported Breivik and his ideology.

"Much of what Breivik said in his manifesto is correct, we haven't had a proper debate about it, we haven't had a proper settlement about it".

Source: <https://filternyheter.no/beskriver-22-juli-angrepet-som-karma-for-ap-mye-av-det-breivik-sa-i-sitt-manifest-er-korrekt/> (in Norwegian, translated to English via Google Translate).

Jean-Francois Gariépy – Further Background & Comments

Jean-François Gariépy

🌐 1 language ▾

Article Talk

Read Edit View history

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Jean-François Gariépy (born 1984) is a French Canadian white nationalist,^{[2][3][4]} former neuroscience researcher,^[5] and alt-right^[6] political commentator. Gariépy hosted the YouTube channel The Public Space before launching his current channel JFG Tonight^[citation needed] where he calls for the creation of a white ethnostate, promotes antisemitic messages, and advocates for the genetic superiority of white people.^{[7][8][9]} The Anti-Defamation League lists The Public Space among "White Supremacist Channels".^[10] Gariépy has been described as a "standard bearer of the alt-right."^[11]

Personal life [edit]

Gariépy was raised in Saint-Sophie, Québec and has been married three times. Gariépy and his third wife separated in July 2015. In December 2015, his wife gave birth to his first son. In the ensuing custody case, his wife accused Gariépy of "emotional abuse" and of "threatening to abduct their child to his native Canada." Gariépy's wife was given custody, to which Gariépy appealed. The appellate court judge ordered Gariépy to undergo a psychological evaluation which resulted in Gariépy being evaluated as "very bright, intellectually", while also showing a "lack of insight and impulse control".^[12]

During the custody case, Gariépy started a relationship with a 19-year-old mestizo autistic woman from Texas, and eventually convinced her to drive to North Carolina to be with him and attempted to get her pregnant. As the parents objected to her daughter's relationship with Gariépy, a case was filed in which the woman was revealed to have "the social and mental maturity of a 10- or 11-year-old child", according to a psychologist. Gariépy claimed she was pregnant with his child, but this was proven false. Guardianship was consequently transferred to the parents who severed the relationship. In an interview, Gariépy told The Daily Beast that the current family court system is designed to "harass men, to harass white, heterosexual males. Right now I'm currently being treated as a criminal by courts that don't have the power to put me in jail, but they have the power to ruin my life."^[12]

Scientist [edit]

Gariépy studied biology at the Université de Montreal. In 2008, the Society for Neuroscience awarded Gariépy the Next Generation Award.^[13] In 2012, he finished a doctoral thesis in French about the neural networks involved in the respiratory rhythm in lampreys.^[14] From September 2011 until September 2015, Gariépy studied social interactions in monkeys at the Institute for Brain Sciences at Duke University.^[15] Over his scientific career, Gariépy published 21 research items that were cited 529 times.^[16]

Gariépy was not asked to return to his postdoctoral position. At this time, Gariépy was in a relationship with one of his undergraduate lab assistants. Gariépy told The Daily Beast he left Duke University for Canada because "he'd grown disillusioned with the scientific community."^[12] In a Facebook post, Gariépy said he was leaving academia because it was "defective" and was interfering with "a true search for knowledge". He said he would continue to search for "a better way" to satisfy his scientific curiosity.^[17] As of 2018, he had moved back to Canada following changes to his legal immigration status related to his divorce from his third wife.^[12]

In 2014, Gariépy received $25,000 from Jeffrey Epstein to start the nonprofit organization NEURO.tv which was dedicated to education on science and philosophy via YouTube.^[18] Asked whether he felt any regrets for having taken money from a sex offender, Gariépy said: "I'd cash a check sent straight from the devil if it could allow me to advance science or science education [...] I did know about the earlier conviction of Epstein when I accepted the money. I didn't know of the most recent allegations though, which are worse than I thought. In any case, I do not regret taking the money. Evil people are not just evil."^[19] Later that year Gariépy requested additional funding from Epstein to finance his book, The Revolutionary Phenotype. Epstein did not respond. The book, which was self-published in 2018, argues that artificial intelligence, genetic engineering, and other advances might lead to the destruction of humanity.^{[20][21]}

Political commentator [edit]

Gariépy made his first public appearance on episode 76 of the podcast Drunken Peasants in 2015.^[12] In 2017, Gariépy joined the YouTube channel Warski Live as co-host.^[22] At Warski Live, Gariépy introduced topics like scientific racism by discussing ethnic differences with guests like Richard B. Spencer, Millennial Woes, Andrew Anglin and Sargon of Akkad.^{[11][23]} At Warski Live, Gariépy gained notoriety among the alt-right as a moderator of the so-called "YouTube Bloodsports" where two or more mainly right-wing guests engage in often highly abusive discussions on politics.^[24]

After a falling out with his co-host, Andy Warski, in April 2018, Gariépy founded his own YouTube channel "The Public Space". The channel has, among many others, featured white nationalists and alt-right figures like Richard B. Spencer, David Duke, Mike Peinovich, Nick Fuentes^[25] and Greg Johnson.^[24]

Jean-François Gariépy

Gariépy in January 2020

Personal information
Born	1984 (age 38–39)  Québec, Canada
Nationality	Canadian
Education	PhD
Occupation	YouTube personality, author
Website	jfg.world
YouTube information
Channel	JFG Tonight
Years active	2011–present
Subscribers	6,430 ^[1]
Total views	232,425 ^[1]
Associated acts	Millennial Woes · Sargon of Akkad

Gariépy's voice

11:51

Last updated: June 2021

Gariepy has interviewed on his YouTube Channel, “The Public Space”, numerous neo-Nazis and Alt Right identities...

Richard B. Spencer

19 languages

Article Talk Read View source View history

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Not to be confused with Robert B. Spencer.
For the British painter, see Richard Ball Spencer. For other people, see Richard Spencer (disambiguation).

The lead section of this article may need to be rewritten. Use the lead layout guide to ensure the section follows Wikipedia's norms and is inclusive of all essential details. (October 2020) (Learn how and when to remove this template message)

Richard Bertrand Spencer (born May 1978)^[1] is an American neo-Nazi, antisemitic conspiracy theorist, and white supremacist.^{[2][3]} A former editor, he is a public speaker and activist on behalf of the alt-right movement.^{[2][4]} He advocates for the reconstitution of the European Union into a white racial empire, which he believes will replace the diverse European ethnic identities with one homogeneous "White identity".^{[5][6][7]}

Spencer has advocated for the enslavement of Haitians by whites and for the ethnic cleansing of the racial minorities of the United States,^[8] additionally expressing admiration for the political tactics of American Nazi Party founder George Lincoln Rockwell.^{[9][10]} He was a featured speaker at the August 2017 Unite the Right rally in Charlottesville, Virginia, among other neo-Nazi rallies that he has headlined.^[11]

Spencer has repeatedly used Nazi gestures and rhetoric in public. In early 2016, Spencer was filmed giving the Nazi salute in a karaoke bar, and leaked footage also depicts Spencer giving the Sieg Heil salute to his supporters during the August 2017 Charlottesville rally.^[12] After Donald Trump was elected president in 2016, Spencer urged his supporters to "party like it's 1933," the year Hitler came to power in Germany.^[13] In the weeks following, Spencer quoted Nazi propaganda and denounced Jews.^[14] At a conference Spencer held celebrating the election, Spencer cried: "Hail Trump, hail our people, hail victory!"; subsequently Mike Enoch led a number of Spencer's supporters in performing a Nazi salute and a chant similar to the Sieg Heil chant.^{[15][16]} In early-to-mid-2017, when Spencer's following was at its height, his supporters would give him the Sieg Heil salute when he entered a room.^[17]

Following the Unite the Right rally, Spencer has been involved in several legal issues. After the Unite the Right rally in Charlottesville, during which an alt-right supporter drove his car into a group of counter-protesters, killing one and injuring at least 19 others,^{[18][19][20]} Spencer was sued as part of Sines v. Kessler for allegedly acting as a "gang boss" and inciting the killing.^{[21][22]} On November 23, 2021, the jury found Spencer liable on two counts and were unable to reach verdicts for another two, awarding $25 million in total damages.^{[23][24]} Three supporters of Spencer were charged with attempted homicide following his October 2017 speech at the University of Florida.^[25] Following an appeal by the Polish government, he was banned from the Schengen Area in 2018,^{[26][27]} having been banned previously in 2014 after being deported from Hungary.^{[28][29][30]}

Early life

Richard Bertrand Spencer was born in 1978 in Boston, Massachusetts, the son of ophthalmologist Rand Spencer and Sherry Spencer (née Dickenhorst), the heiress to cotton farms in Louisiana.^{[31][32]} He grew up in Preston Hollow, Dallas, Texas.^[33] Spencer attended St. Mark's School of Texas, then Colgate University

Richard B. Spencer

Spencer in 2016

Born	Richard Bertrand Spencer May 1978 (age 44) Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.
Education	St. Mark's School of Texas
Alma mater	Colgate University University of Virginia (BA) University of Chicago (MA) Duke University (PhD candidate; withdrew)
Occupation(s)	Author, publisher
Known for	President and director of the National Policy Institute Executive director of Washington Summit Publishers Organizing the 2017 Unite the Right neo-Nazi demonstration in Charlottesville that caused one death and multiple injuries.

文 2 languages

Read Edit View history

(Redirected from Mike Peinovich)

Mike Enoch

A portrait of Mike Enoch, a man with a beard and mustache, wearing a light-colored shirt. He is looking directly at the camera. In the background, there is a framed picture of a landscape with green hills and a blue sky.

Born	Michael Isaac Peinovich 1977 (age 45–46)
	Career
Show	The Daily Shoah
Style	Neo-Nazi, antisemitic, Holocaust denial
Country	United States

In addition to his founding of a neo-Nazi media network, Enoch has drawn attention for his role in organizing book burnings.^[7]

[edit]

Enoch was born as Michael Enoch Isaac Peinovich of Norwegian and Serbian descent. His parents divorced when their son was at a young age.^[1] Enoch attended Columbia High School.^[8] While in high school, Enoch worked jobs delivering pizzas and chemically testing pools. After graduating high school, he attended and dropped out of several universities before becoming a computer programmer who worked at an e-publishing company.^[1]

🇺🇸 10 languages ▾

Read View source View history

Nick Fuentes

A portrait of Nick Fuentes, a man with dark hair wearing a dark suit and a white shirt, looking slightly to the right. He is wearing large black headphones. The background is a blurred indoor setting with a window showing a cityscape at night.

Born	Nicholas Joseph Fuentes August 18, 1998 (age 24) ^{[1][2]} Illinois, U.S. ^[3]
Occupations	Political commentator · streamer
Years active	2015–present
Known for	Political commentary Founder of the Groyper s Holocaust denial
Movement	White supremacism White nationalism ^[4] Christian nationalism ^[5]
Website	nicholasifuentes.com

Fuentes was born on August 18, 1998, in the U.S state of Illinois.^{[6][7][8]} Fuentes lived in La Grange Park, Illinois, and attended Lyons Township High School, where he was president of the student council.^[22] He studied introductory international relations and politics during his freshman year at Boston University.^[15] He dropped out in 2017 after completing his freshman year, claiming he received threats for attending the white supremacist Unite the Right rally in Charlottesville, Virginia.^{[19][23][24]} He said he would transfer to Auburn University in fall 2017, saying Auburn "has better weather and better people", but ultimately did not confirm his enrollment or continue his education.^[25]

1 language

Read Edit View history

"Counter-Currents" redirects here. For other uses, see Countercurrent (disambiguation).

Through Counter-Currents he has published over 40 books, several of which he wrote himself, either under his real name or the pseudonym Trevor Lynch.^[4] He has also written for the anti-Semitic far-right online publication Occidental Observer.^[5] A high-profile white nationalist, he has appeared at far-right events in Europe, and in 2019 was arrested in Norway before one such event and deported.^[6] He lives in Seattle, Washington.^[4]

[edit]

Johnson received a Ph.D. in philosophy from the Catholic University of America around 2000 or 2001.^[4]
[verification needed]

A portrait of a middle-aged man with short, light-colored hair and glasses. He is wearing a dark jacket over a light-colored hoodie. The background is plain white.

Born	1971 (age 51–52)
Nationality	American
Education	Oregon State University (B.A. in Philosophy) ^[1] Catholic University of America (M.A. & Ph.D. in Philosophy) ^[1]
Occupation	Editor-in-chief of Counter-Currents Publishing
Known for	White nationalism

Thesis *A Commentary on Kant's
Dreams of a Spirit-
See PDF (2001)*

🌐 32 languages ▾

Read View source View history

Early life

Alt-Right YouTuber Accused of Luring Autistic Teen in Pregnancy Plot

DISTURBING

A Canadian immigrant who makes white-nationalist videos with Richard Spencer is accused of trying to impregnate an autistic Hispanic teen—while he was married to another woman.

Kelly Weill
Reporter

Updated Mar. 15, 2018 3:10PM ET / Published Mar. 15, 2018 5:28AM ET

Photo Illustration by Sarah Rogers/The Daily Beast

Listen to article 22 minutes

A prominent far-right YouTuber who calls for a white “ethnostate” and makes videos with Richard Spencer is accused of luring and attempting to impregnate a developmentally disabled Hispanic teenager while lawyers contested his U.S. immigration status.

This comes amid a separate legal battle with his wife, who accused him of trying to kidnap their infant to Canada.

ADVERTISEMENT

Jean-Francois Garipey is a fast-rising fixture in white-nationalist circles. A former neuroscience researcher at Duke University who left suddenly in 2015, Garipey now makes videos attempting to prove white superiority, calling for all-white separatist states and a crackdown on immigration. White nationalist Richard Spencer recently appeared with him on a livestream.

<https://www.thedailybeast.com/alt-right-youtuber-accused-of-luring-autistic-teen-in-pregnancy-plot>

However, it was not until he delved into his "alt right" views that people truly realized what a lunatic he is ("alt right" is in quotation marks because nobody in the alt right understands what Jean is talking about). It would take an army of detectives, code breakers and cryptologists to figure out JF's psychotic world view, expressed in broken English, but it essentially boils down to this:

JF believes that one US state should secede from the union to form a multi-racial ethnostate where all races are treated equally but no non whites are allowed in.

https://encyclopediadramatica.online/Jean-Francois_Gariepy

FROM RATIONAL WIKI

Ethnostate support[edit]

“I'm not against ethnostates[.] ethnostates is all we had before liberals took over the west

—Jean-François Gariépy, master^W of^W historical^W truth^W^[9]

Gariépy has explained several aspects of his ethnostate beliefs. For example, he sees ethnostates as realistic:

Q: You've said you support the idea of "an ethnostate" or "the ethnostate". Do you support it as a concept of it just as a libertarian, in the sense that "it should be something that people are allowed to set up", or as something you would like to see in the future? Do you see it as realistic, with a set of policies that could eventually be enacted, or as a sort of fantasy based alternative history?

Gariépy: Something I'd like to see in the future. Realistic, more or less. I agree it doesn't seem feasible in the short run but I also think things can change without warning in the political landscape.^[10]

He thinks that an ethnostate is most likely in the West:

Q: if you think of the ethnostate as something you would like to see and believe could realistically happen somewhere, where would you like to see it, and how would it be implemented.

Gariépy: I think a separatist state from one of the western nations (US, Canada, maybe in Europe, who knows...)^[10]

You can totally have an ethnostate in one of the United States separating from the country in a times of civil unrest^[11]

And he thinks that ethnostates should both provide equal rights to all ethnicities while restricting immigration by ethnicity:

Q: In an ideal ethnostate, what would qualify someone to be considered a part of a particular ethnicity? What part does race play in that?

Gariépy: Ultimately I'm a constitutionalist and I don't believe an ethnostate should treat people differently; I think it should provide equal rights to any ethnicity. I just think the ethnostate could be founded by people of a certain race for that purpose and could limit immigration in a way that their racial group remains relatively uniform (or at least controllably ^[sic] mixed with a small percent of migrants). I do not think the constitution should specifically make white people have more rights than other ethnicities.^[10] thebritisher: [I]ndividuals, irrespective of race, ought to be afforded the same rights & privileges and be the same before the law. Agreed?

Gariépy: Depends on what you mean by individuals. If you mean people appearing before the law in a country where they live, I agree. If you mean potential migrants applying for immigration, no. I believe a country can apply arbitrary selection criteria for who becomes a citizen.^[12]

Gariépy claims that he does not advocate for establishing an ethnostate by force^[13] and claims it is a strawman to claim that he advocates for force.^[14] (Ironically, Gariépy has strawmanned his opposition as believing that multicultural states should be imposed "by force", rather than believing that migration and multiculturalism are natural events that do not require force.^[15]) However, Gariépy has appeared on The Right Stuff podcast The Daily Shoah,^{[16][17]} a platform that wholeheartedly endorses genocide of nonwhites, and has shared an article from The Daily Stormer.^[18] Even though Gariépy may not believe in establishing an ethnostate through force, he is willing to work with those who do.

Jew-baiting Destiny[\[edit\]](#)

““Let the jews take all the screenshots they want, I am a libertarian and I respect the jew.

—Jean-François Gariépy, Jew respecter^[19]

After streamer Destiny accused Gariépy of statutory rape (see below), Gariépy claimed that Destiny was Jewish and was orchestrating an ongoing brigade of his Discord server:

another jewish youtuber accusing me of sexual assault^[20]

Yesterday, a jewish Twitch.tv star whom I will not name has come into the server and violated several rules along with his fans, posting porn and doxing material. This is a kind of tactic we have seen before whereby the public intellectual gets humiliated at the intellectual level, and later goes on to try to ruin my personal life through attacks. I recommend we all ignore this raid and I have done what I could to ban most of the people who were involved in it.^[21]

Later, when asked about whether Destiny should be able to comment on the "sexual assault" allegations, Gariépy stated:

Q: Didn't JF [Gariépy] believe in complete free speech?

Gariépy: I don't believe in free speech for cockroaches, just humans.

Q: @JFGariépy don't RT this --- it's a joke from destiny (he was underage at the time) [picture of tweet from Destiny claiming he was in an "underage relationship" (during high school)]

Gariépy: I don't care, I'm retweeting some of Destiny's statements, including his acknowledgment that he is jewish.^[22]

On a livestream with YouTuber Bunt King, Gariépy again stated that Destiny was Jewish:

King: Now, there was something that I noticed with, during that whole tiff between you and Destiny. You went out of your way to call him Jewish. And you kept calling him Jewish in your Discord server or somewhere. Like, the, uh, "a jewish twitch TV star is, you know, disparaging me, you know, running my name through the mud". Why did you need to point out that he was Jewish?

Gariépy: Well, I, I pointed out that he was Jewish two times. The first was a humorous time, because on my Discord server, we keep joking about how, uh, [YouTuber] [Kraut \[and Tea\]](#) was Jewish, and the moment I called him Jewish, I implied that, perhaps the fact that he is Jewish or partly Jewish in this case, may have changed his view of white nationalism, uh, and I believe that in the case of Kraut [and Tea], it did. Now when the Destiny, uh, false allegations against me started, I said as a joke on my Discord server, "What? Another Jewish YouTuber making false allegations against me?" So that was a joke in relation to the fact that Kraut was also a Jewish YouTuber who had made, who was preparing to make doxing activities and smearing against me.

Gariépy: The second time is that I didn't want to refer to his name as Destiny because I didn't want to, I don't want to contribute to his popularity anymore, he's been defaming me on the public space, and so I said, "a Jewish Twitch star", because on his Twitter account, that's what he says. In his bio description, he says, um, anarcho-something, ancap, blah blah blah, and Jewish. And so that's how he self-identifies, so I have no problem in to labeling him a, a label that he is giving himself in his Twitter bio, just like I wouldn't have any problem saying "a biologist alt-righter", because I do write in my Twitter description that I am a biologist, and so people can call me a biologist, and I can call Destiny a Jew.^[23]

https://rationalwiki.org/wiki/Jean-Fran%C3%A7ois_Gari%C3%A9py