Subject: Minutes from Special Party Room meeting

Dear Gary,

Please find attached the minutes from Mondays Party Room Meeting. I notice Moira asked both John and I for a copy.

As Moira will not be able to attend the Party Room next time, she will need an opportunity to raise any issues she has with the current minutes before they are accepted by the party room. Would you like me to seek comments from her so I can share those, if any at the next Party Room meeting?

Renee

Meeting opened at 10am

John Pesutto: thanked everyone for coming. Housekeeping: motion was emailed last Monday, and everyone has had a chance to consider it.

John Pesutto: proposed a secret ballot. Three scrutineers: One for John, one for Moira and a third scrutineer as witness. Everyone is present. It will need 16 votes to pass

John Pesutto: I won't read the motion - you all have that. It's been a difficult week. I can only assure you as I did last Tuesday that I would never have brought this forward unless I had to. I never would have put my leadership to this type of test unless I absolutely had to do it. If we are to be a winning force, then we have to be true to what we have been telling ourselves we are going to do. We need to be professional and focused. We need Victoria to see we are reliable and focused. Unless we take this step we are proposing today, we cannot do that. We will not be seen as a viable option. It's only been a short time since I have had the pleasure of leading and we have started to make gains. Every time we get a run and start landing blows, we get drawn away from it and that is serious. It leads to brand damage. I want to assure you that I do firmly believe that there is space in the Liberal Party for a whole range of views. We have to have in mind that it's not just our colleagues but the state that has entrusted us to leading. There is room in our house for a broad range of views. The decision that I am asking you to take today as a collective is leadership. This is a tough decision, there is nothing personal in it.

We have issues that we need to prosecute: Cost of living, energy prices. If we can't do this, I wonder if we are up to what is required. I was at pains to work through the issues as I did last weekend. I know what sacrifices you have made. This pathway is to make sure your sacrifices are worth it. The leadership I'm offering is one that says I want to win.

This is the first of many tough decisions we are going to have to make if we want to win.

He spoke for 10 minutes.

Richard Riordan: On Tuesday I, along with others believed that there was a third option in dealing with this. We have all been put in this room with the same position, as equals - we are all entitled to be here. Expulsion is a very last result. (Richard spoke to the constitution and notice of motion). Even the ABC cannot prove the allegations of neo Nazi sympathies. We are not here to disagree with our leader, this isn't about leadership. The motion raises two issues: neo Nazi sympathies and hate against the trans community. Neither have been able to be proven. We cannot kick her out of the Party Room on two unjustifiable lies. Moira's legal case against us is massively strong. If we are going to get rid of a strong, young woman that has joined our ranks, I am devastated at the consequences of this motion.

Bev McArthur: Needless to say I would urge everyone not to support this motion. This is one of the hardest days of my life. This is the most devastating day of my life. I lost my son five years ago today, and if this wasn't something extremely important, I would be on a plane on the way to Scotland to attend the funeral of my late son's godmother. I will always stand for women's rights. If I hadn't been in Sydney at a women's conference, I would have been there with Moira fighting for the rights of women. I am here for women and young girls so they are safe. We must stand up for women. We had a chance to stand for women when men in black came and hijacked a women's rally. This is not about your leadership, John. You have set out to expel a woman in this party. People have emailed in, there have been flurries of emails to support Moira. We look stupid. If we are to be a Party that embraces all views, then we must be sure that we advocate for the views of 50% of the population. A lot of Moira's supporters are lesbians, and they are the ones that are getting attacked. If we spent our energy fighting ideas, not personalities we will be a winning force. We are all entitled to a different opinion, and we are entitled to voice it. Please do not make us go down the path of socialism.

Brad Battin: John, you said some things about leadership. We all need to move forward. This should not have been debated in the media. I went out of my way to talk to the police crew that were involved in this process. Victoria Police knew one of the men in that group. He is a known Nazi. They have big restrictions in what they can do. There was no Nazi symbols. Laws did not allow them to move them on. The most violent group was a trans group, not the women's group. The next day the Victoria Police were taken aside by the GLOW (gay and lesbian organization of witwatersrand), we need the full details of that process. There is an opportunity to come up with another option other than expulsion.

We need to come together and know what the standards are. I have been here in Parliament for 12 years and I have never had those conversations. It must be a line in the sand. We must know what we are allowed to attend and what we are not allowed to attend.

Georgie Crozier: As I said on Tuesday nobody wants this. Not one of us wants to be in this room today but we are because of a scenario that has arisen.

Over the past few weeks there has been some things that Moira has said. Everyone knows that Moira has stood for these things for many, many years. She has a public profile. When she made her inaugural speech there were some issues and John and I spoke to her. We came into this party room as equals. We spoke about the sensitives around these issues. We tried to provide advice around the issues that were raised. You might have been an activist before you were in Parliament but now, you're an MP. We are all MP's surely; we should understand basic standards.

I didn't hear the women's day speech, I understand it was about the rally. Then the rally happened. You knew what you were walking into. David Southwick reached out and said we need to deal with this and there was nothing – defiance again. There was no understanding about what needs to be done. This isn't about a women's issue, it's not about freedom of speech, this is a pattern. There is a pattern of defiance and not taking advice. I am sorry about that Moira because I have come to you and wanted to help you and nothing. This is about leadership. I urge you to support this motion.

Ryan Smith: In response to Georgie's commentary. It's not about those things. It's about the two things right here (held up motion paper). The reasons that Georgie raised are not here. All the issues that are being put forward, are not on the motion. Georgie signed this and she hasn't put any of this on the motion. There are 2 issues – if you believe in them, support the motion.

David Davis: That is a little bit simplistic, Ryan. It's in Georgie's rights to put forward these points. There is motion there but there is also a context.

Kim Wells: I don't know whether I'm sad or angry to have gotten to this point. After the last loss I thought we were taking a new direction. Instead of shooting ourselves in the foot – we are shooting ourselves in the head. We don't respect everyone's views. I thought that's what the Liberal Party was all about. I cannot believe how badly this has been handled, John Chris Crewther: (Read from his notes and will provide notes). The neo Nazis were not invited and were not welcome. I oppose neo Nazis. We must push against guilt by association. This could happen to any of us. This will make members afraid to stand up for what they believe in. Any of us could be Moira one day. Federally – we always got behind each other when things came up. Discipline is needed and this can be done in different ways. We don't know what we are allowed to attend, and what we are not allowed to attend. To be told after, is not fair. This will only further divide our party. I encourage the colleagues to oppose this motion.

Joe McCracken: I love the Liberal Party, but I hate this situation. I hate it beyond belief. When I had my maiden speech, there was a lot of people who supported me, they supported me and they reached and Moira came up to me and looked me square in the eyes and said "Joe, I am proud of you". They are not the words of someone who hates gays or lesbians. During that time, I saw Moira for who she was. I am put in an impossible situation now because I am made to choose between two people I respect. Whichever way this vote goes, it's going to be crap. I don't even want to walk out there. We need to find another option that saves face for John but saves Moira.

Renee Heath: I want to explain why I am not only supporting Moira, but why I am strongly supporting her. There is a toxic culture in this Party, and it must change. I think that often people wait for someone to slip up and then they use that to settle scores. I don't believe that it is the extreme left, or the extreme right that keeps us in opposition – it is extreme division. That must change now. Everyone knew that Moira was attending that rally and I think that the minute the Nazis showed up, certain people said, "we have got her – lets link her to that". The Nazis had nothing to do with Moira and she condemned them straight away, yet some people jumped on the opportunity to get rid of her. Also, I think that others have thought "well, if John loses this vote – we have got him" and they will use it to get rid of him. It needs to end. We should keep Moira and keep John. John, you mentioned that this will be the first of many tough decisions, quite frankly – I don't want to be the next tough decision. What are we allowed to go to? I think we must remember that it is the same right that allows us to go to a pride rally, or a women's rally. It should be up to the individual what they want to attend. In terms of the treatment of Moira – I think it is horrible. I thought we would have learnt after what the Party did to me. I know what it is like to be terrified because the leadership in this party has thrown me under the bus and it still continues today because the leadership will not correct the record. I know what it is like to be followed and to have drones over my place and to be told by this party to "just not go home". I wasn't allowed home during that time because it was dangerous, and I was advised not to come to Melbourne either. I was scared when it was me in a similar position, but for Moira, it is her and her family you are putting in danger, both Moira and I have been physically assaulted in the city in the last month. Where is the outrage over that? I am asking you, for the safety of women in this party – do not support this motion.

Matt Bach: I have found this so incredibly hard. I found last weekend that this is a necessary step. We cannot be wedded to extremists. I urge you to support the motion.

Nick McGowan: I share Kim's initial feelings. I cannot understand what we are doing as human beings to be quite honest. I read the motion; I do not agree for a minute that Moira is a neo Nazi. We will all make mistakes. If this motion is successful today, you are actually labelling someone a Nazi. Moira is going to have to live with that. It's like calling someone a murderer, a rapist, or a paedophile. Substance is key because there is not a penalty that is worse than this. Most people's minds are probably made up and that is the saddest thing. You must maintain an open mind right until the end. If Moira had been told that she couldn't go to the rally and she did, I might be able to support this motion – but that didn't happen.

David Hodgett: Sadly, this issue has become a vote for one, or for the other when the majority in the room probably want both. I spent quite a bit of time with Moira this week and I am sure she would do things differently if we had our time again, and so would the leadership. A lot of us are pissed off that we are placed in this position where we have to choose one or the other. I cannot believe that the 31 of us in this room cannot find a sensible way forward. I urge that we find a sensible way forward. Some of the behaviour on both sides was absolutely appalling.

David Southwick: I was unsure whether I should speak because I know when I speak people say to me that I'm too close to it. I want to thank Chris and Renee for the calling those men for what they were, which is neo Nazis. I don't think Moira is a Nazi. I haven't said that I will not say that. She is not in any way, but we are Members of Parliament. When something is wrong, we need to do what is needed to be able to fix it. I don't accept that sitting on the couch talking about conspiracy theories is calling that out. If the Nazis hadn't showed up, we wouldn't be in this room. Couch conversations, having champagne and talking about conspiracy theories is calling it out. It is not acceptable to change your profile picture to have a Barbie doll dressed as a Nazi. I took John on Sunday to the Holocaust centre. We didn't make it a media thing – Joe a 92 Holocaust and said, "please don't allow this to happen again".

What should have happened on that couch is "there were Nazis that crashed a rally". Those Nazis weren't coming after Jews, they were coming after trans. It's not about Jews. It's about anyone who is not them. We are MP's who need to call it out.

John Pesutto: The problem is we could not get a concession from Moira.

Ryan Smith: asked "so there is no room for compromise in this room?"

John Pesutto: "Not at this stage, no."

Moira Deeming: The email that I wrote to you all, outlined what my experience was on Saturday. I emailed you a letter from my lawyer addressing the dossier. I immediately apologised. Moira will provide a copy of her speech. See attached.

John Pesutto announced meeting suspended from 11:33 until 11:40

11:56am. Meeting called to order. We have reached a compromise. People have been moved

The promised compromise –

- Moira to be suspended from the party room for 9 months effective from this meeting
- Joint statement from the leader's office in conjunction with Moira
- A media statement - this statement will make it clear that no one was accusing Moira of being a Nazi, or Nazi sympathiser.

Agreed but not with a unanimous show of hands. Support was sort for the agreement as negotiated between Moira, the leadership, and others. It was put to the room for support of the agreement, quite a number in the room raised their hands, but it was not unanimous.

"Good morning, thank you for allowing me to speak.

In the last week, I've repeatedly been told that this motion to expel me from the Party

Room isn't about the specific accusations made against me,

-but that it's about saving John and the Leadership team,

-or that it's about rebranding and modernising the Liberal Party,

-or that it's about the fear that I'm unteachable or 'not a team player'

I'm not unsympathetic to these issues, and I'll happily address each of them in turn.

As to this vote being a way to save John and the Leadership team- I would say that the best solution is to keep both John and I, and that we put forward a united front.

Look, I know many of you are up at me being a Christian. But there's one good thing you can rely on me for because of my faith, and that's my commitment to humility and forgiveness.

My priority is having my name cleared for my children and just to get back to work for the people of the Western Metro region. I'm happy to support the leadership team and to state that publicly.

As to this vote being a way to rebrand and modernise the Victorian Liberal Party.

In my defence- I honestly didn't know that was part of our agenda. I've been operating on our Party platforms and stated principles, as I understand them. And so regardless of whether I'm expelled today or not, I honestly believe that for the good of our whole Party, that there needs to be a clear explanation of exactly what rebranding and modernising the Liberal party means. Our party members and supporters- not to mention each of us as preselected and elected Liberal Party MPs, need to be able to understand and articulate exactly what we do and do not stand for. That way we actually stand a chance of being a truly united front. So just to be clear, I don't have a problem with this- I just think we all need to be on the same page.

As to the concern that I'm unteachable or 'not a team player'.

I have repeatedly asked for help and guidance. I am a brand new MP and I need to learn the ropes. I am a team player. I like the team structure. I like to do my part. In the state election I was asked by senior Liberals not to speak to the media, and to outreach into the Muslim community. Which is exactly what I did, with the support of senior frontbenchers.

But the main thing I wanted to do today, is remind you that I am a real person, I'm not just a political problem to be cauterized.

Your decision today- whether you like it or not- will be linked in the minds of the public, to the specific accusations and imputations in that dossier.

I want to remind you all that being accused of Nazism- in any degree- by the Liberal Party Parliamentary Team of Victoria- is going to have heinous consequences for my life, the lives of my husband and our four children. It will have negative consequences for anybody associated with me, like my brother, my parents, and my friends.

My husband and I have already begun to receive hate mail from people who've read those accusations, and now believe that we are white supremacists.

There have already been threats of violence against me, because of these accusations.

A stranger has already attempted to trespass into our backyard where our children play.

The Police have had to do start doing regular patrols outside our home to help keep us safe.

We've already had threats to withdraw work opportunities because of these accusations.

Our children have already been excluded from their activities and groups.

There are many facts about my personal life that many here, and certainly many in the media simply do not know.

They reason that people don't know these things is because ordinarily I consider it repugnant to use them in political debates.

But I've realised that I need to be vulnerable with you all so that you can understand me better and have confidence to brush off any lies you hear about me.

If you support this motion of expulsion, you will be supporting the idea that

- the first Victorian MP of Maori descent,
 - who took in and cared for a Vietnamese asylum seeker with cancer,
 - who is famous among her students for her WW2 History lessons,
 - and who was largely raised by her uncle who was Jewish Holocaust survivor –
- is a Nazi sympathiser.

My uncle's name was Emery Gellert and he was liberated from the Schachendorf Concentration Camp. He and his wife, (who died on the day of my maiden speech), were the two biggest influences (apart from my parents) in my childhood.

They taught me how dangerous mindless hate and hateful labels really are. It was Uncle Emery's voice in my mind, which cautioned me not to call even vile young men raising their arms in a Nazi salute- Nazis, until I was 100% sure.

It is not only untrue that I have Nazi links, but deeply and personally offensive and hurtful.

I note that many of you are confused and annoyed with me for persisting in talking about women's rights, intersex rights, gay rights, parents rights and safeguards for women and children. I assure you the reasons are completely and utterly based on love and compassion, not any sort of bigotry- and not even on religion or conservative politics.

When I speak on these issues, I speak from personal experience.

My life has been marred repeatedly by rape- at the hands of men- from the age of four. I have been assaulted in public facilities. I was sexually harassed and assaulted by a teacher who later went to jail for having sex with minors. One of my best friends and biggest supporters is intersex. I know mothers and fathers whose own 15 year old children were operated on and made infertile and lost all sexual function- against their wishes. I have supporters who are happily transgender and supporters who are grateful detransitioners.

My preselection character references include two prominent left wing lesbians.

I am driven by a desire to make sure other children and women don't suffer like I did. That's all.

These allegations against me of Nazism and hatred towards the trans community are 100% false. But people will believe them if you support this motion to expel me.

So even if you don't like me, or you think my focus isn't mainstream enough, or you worry that I'm not a team player- please by all means deal with me, but whatever you do, please don't deal with me via this expulsion motion because it smears me and my family as Nazi sympathisers when it couldn't be further from the truth."

1. You'll be glad to hear I'm not giving a Whip's Report today. But I am here to support another Whip. Moira Deeming.
2. With respect to you JP, I cannot in good conscience support this motion. I support Moira Deeming remaining part of the Parliamentary Liberal Party.
3. Whether one agrees or disagrees with all or any of the points made by Moira or her fellow protestors on the women/trans issue is irrelevant to the motion.
4. If one looks at the full video of the protests, the neo-Nazis, along with Antifa I might add, were not invited and initially all on the outside of the police cordon.
5. For some reason, these neo-Nazis were let into the cordon, which is certainly something we should be raising with Andrews.
6. Moira herself has said that these neo-Nazis were not invited and not welcome. And that they, and Antifa, were there to hijack the women's protest for their own purposes.
7. I oppose neo-Nazis, and I know Moira does too. Moira would not have purposely associated with any neo-Nazis or people associated with neo-Nazis.
8. Standing for Women is strictly a women's rights organisation whose lawful protest was hijacked by neo-Nazis in a desperate attempt for publicity. And one of the organisers is herself Jewish.
9. We are the party of individual freedom, and we must push against guilt by association, particularly when we say in our beliefs: "We believe in individual freedom and free enterprise".
10. Expelling someone who had associations with a person who in turn has negative associations, or perceived or alleged associations, sets a dangerous precedent.
11. It's dangerous territory for any of us getting expelled if any of us are involved in say a protest where there might be uninvited neo-Nazis show up. Or for any of us who might be seen in any photos or video with someone that unbeknownst to us could be a neo-Nazi, or associated with neo-Nazis, or has a criminal conviction, is a paedophile, mafia member, bikie, or who in turn is associated with such people.
12. Approving this motion will make members even more afraid to speak out on issues they might be passionate about. It will mean members not trusting one another, and not trusting that colleagues will have their back. It may mean the targeting of certain members and digging up of dirt. Any one of us could be Moira one day.
13. In the federal sphere we always got behind each other as colleagues when fellow colleagues had issues insofar as possible, whether it was Susan Ley, Christian Porter, Stuart Robert, Alan Tudge and many others.
14. So I don't think we need to go down the route of expelling someone. Discipline if needed can be done in different ways, ideally internally.
15. The other factor is that Moira had spoken in Parliament letting everyone know she was going to speak at the rally. The organisers speaking at the rally were known in advance. If there was concern, Moira should have been told in advance that her participation would lead to potential expulsion. To be told after is not fair on her.
16. Overall, I think this motion and expelling Moira is and will only further divide our Party, whereas in recent weeks that the parliamentary party had really started to come together. It's a distraction from the great inroads we had been making on integrity and corruption.
17. And, I encourage colleagues to consider this issue on its merits, instead of conflating it with leadership. I support Moira, and I support JP.

18. I encourage colleagues not to support this motion, particularly if you have any element of doubt, and to give Moira a chance.

Dear Ms Deeming,

1. I write to give you notice of my intention to call a special meeting of the Victorian Parliamentary Party on 27 March 2023 and that — for the reasons in the motion set out herein — I will move a motion, pursuant to clauses 58 to 60 of the Victorian Parliamentary Liberal Party Constitution, dated 30 August 2022, that you be expelled from the Victorian Parliamentary Party.

2. The wording of the motion is that:

“Pursuant to the Victorian Parliamentary Liberal Party Constitution, dated 30 August 2022, (the Constitution), that the Victorian Parliamentary Liberal party expel Ms Moira Deeming from the Parliamentary Party.

Pursuant to clauses 57 and 59 of the Constitution, the reasons for such expulsion being, on the evidence contained in the attached Annexure hereto, that Ms Deeming, on 19 March 2023 and in days preceding that day, conducted activities in a manner likely to bring discredit on the Parliament or the Parliamentary Party, such conduct by:

- (a) on 19 March 2023 and on days prior organising, promoting and attending a rally where Kellie-Jay Keen (also known as Posie Parker), was the principal speaker in circumstances where Ms Keen was known to be publicly associated with far right-wing extremist groups including neo-Nazi activists; and
- (b) on 19 March 2023, meeting with and publishing a video with Kellie-Jay Keen, Katherine Deeves, and Angie Jones and that Angie Jones, on that day posted on Twitter words that, in the mind of any reasonable and lay observer, made association with Nazis including on 4:41pm by posting the words “Nazis and women want to get rid of paedo filth. Why don’t you”, that quote being set out in the Annexure hereto, which Annexure also contains a hyperlink to the video referred to in this reason.”

7. In October 2019, Keen appeared in a video interview with Jean-François Gariépy, a far-right YouTuber who advocates for a "white ethno-state" and who has made videos with neo-Nazis Richard B. Spencer and Mark Collett as well as former Ku Klux Klan leader David Duke.¹ The interview with Jean-François Gariépy is documented by the following material:

Posie Parker, one of the UK's most prominent "gender-critical feminists" has appeared in what Mumsnet users are calling a "brave", "interesting" and "brilliant" video with a French-Canadian white nationalist.

Jean-François Gariépy, 35, is a prominent far-right YouTuber who calls for a "white ethno-state" and has made videos with neo-Nazi Richard Spencer, the white supremacist who shouted "Hail Trump!" in front of a crowd seen celebrating Trump's 2016 election win with Nazi salutes.

In videos attempting to prove white superiority and calling for all-white separatist states and a crackdown on immigration, Gariépy's guests have included former Ku Klux Klan leader David Duke and known neo-Nazi Mark Collett. During his livestream with Gariépy, Duke made several anti-Semitic comments.

Gariépy's latest guest was Posie Parker, also known as Kellie-Jay Keen-Minshull - one of the most prominent voices of the UK's "gender-critical feminism" (or "terf") movement.

Despite his well-known white nationalist views - plus court documents uncovered by the Daily Beast that reveal Gariépy has been accused of "luring and attempting to impregnate a developmentally disabled Hispanic teenager while lawyers contested his U.S. immigration status" - women on UK parenting forum Mumsnet, the home of much "gender-critical feminist" conversation online, praised Parker for appearing on his YouTube channel.

"'Far-right' always gets thrown around as an insult," one Mumsnet user said. "Where are the left on this issue? Throwing women and children under the bus is where."

10. Keen was accused of using a Barbie doll wearing a Nazi uniform as her profile picture on the social media site Spinster: see Elliards, Xander (4 February 2023). ["Who is Posie Parker? You know Posie Parker used a barbie doll with a nazi arm patch for a profile pic on spinster, right? She's a white supremacist. Pieing is also a form of political protest that was historically used by LGBTQ activists against Anita Bryant in 1977.

Trans Activist @Esqueer_ actively encouraging the assault of @StandingforXX at her event in Oregon. It makes me sick to know how violent antifa and these activists are.

I encourage everyone to PEACEFULLY protest whenever possible. Take these issues to the ballot. NO VIOLENCE.

Anti-trans activists: Stop calling us Nazis!

Also anti-trans activists: uses a profile picture with a swastika on it.

11. On 16 January 2023, at an event for Keen's Standing for Women's group in Newcastle, United Kingdom, one of the speakers, Lisa Morgan, quoted Adolf Hitler as follows "Do you know the big lie? The big lie was first described by Adolf Hitler in Mein Kampf ... The big lie is that trans women are women".³

Sewell outlined the objectives of the protest on Telegram:

Today in Melbourne, the National Socialist Network acted as a vanguard for a protest against the constant paedophilic agenda being forced upon our children and our people.

Paedophiles deserve destruction, and the only solution to this sickness is White Revolution!
