

< 4

Nicholas Johnston

last seen today at 11:42 am

JP is the real deal and why I gave up a cushy job. He is a leader but also a good person.

7:43 pm

Liberal MPs are tiring of Deeming and her merry band of rebels

<https://www.theage.com.au/politics/victoria/liberal-mps-are-tiring-of-deeming-and-her-merry-band-of-rebels-20230504-p5d5o1.html?btis>

8:07 pm ✓✓

This is very good

8:07 pm ✓✓

5 May 2023

McCracken doing his regular AW at 11

10:26 am ✓✓

Sorry, he did at 10^

10:29 am ✓✓

Age doing a yarn this weekend or Monday on VBA writing to builders reminding them about need to t our DBI.. Happy with below from Jess? Just another go at what we've said previously

< 4

Nicholas Johnston

last seen today at 11:42 am

warned of these issues and presented with options to better protect consumers nine months ago but failed to act.

"Victoria needs an urgent review of the domestic building insurance scheme to ensure every home buyer who pays for insurance receives the protections they are legally entitled to."

6:29 pm ✓✓

And TVs good tonight, push to expel Moira is organic and doesn't appear driven by leadership - it's the party room that's had enough.

Temperature is right to go hard and get it done. Need to push and see it through

6:31 pm ✓✓

This is all good tks 6:53 pm

6 May 2023

➔ Forwarded

The Andrews government is preparing to raid $1bn from the TAC at the same time that Victoria's devastating road toll

