BREAKING: Opposition leader @JohnPesutto says he will move to expel Moira Deeming from the Liberal parliamentary party room this week.

Yesterday afternoon Victorians witnessed an abomination on the steps of the Victorian Parliament when neo-Nazi protesters engaged in an affront to the values we should all hold dear as Victorians.

The violence, prejudice and hate that these protesters conveyed by their odious actions will never be acceptable in our State. I condemn them and commit to opposing such hate wherever it may exist.

This afternoon I met with Moira Deeming MP who attended yesterday's rally. I discussed her involvement in organising, promoting and participating in a rally with speakers and other organisers who themselves have been publicly associated with far right-wing extremist groups including neo-Nazi activists.

Vic Libs have an opportunity to disendorse their Nazi-linked MP.
Or they can protect her and endorse her links to radical white supremacist extremism.

That is their choice. The rest of the Victorian community will take note.

The fact that all the UK imperialists are suddenly coming to the defence of Moira Deeming is kinda hilarious.

They hadn't heard of her last week. And they don't know the first thing about her or about Victoria.

And yet they choose to support her and Nazis.

John Pesutto referred to this tweet by Angie Jones, an organiser of Saturday's protest, in his media conference explaining why he will move to expel Moira Deeming from the Liberal Party.

Deeming's link to Jones appears to be another nail in her coffin, and Pesutto has a hammer.

If Pesutto doesn't succeed in expelling Moira Deeming he must resign as leader. And, if he has any integrity, he will refuse to be in the same party as her.

If she is not expelled, the "moderates" should leave Liberal Party to the Nazis and start again.

Moira Deeming loves nazis

Benita Kolovos @benitakolovos · Mar 20, 2023

Full statement from Liberal MP Moira Deeming has just landed:

This organisation and its goals are mainstream and global, supported by high profile members and leaders of every mainstream political party in the world.

The Melbourne "Let Women Speak" event was attended by Muslims, Christians, Atheists and members of the Greens, Labor, LDP and Liberal Parties. I announced on International Women's Day, in Parliament that I'd be in attendance and invited Natalie Hutchins to join me, because she is the Minister for Women.

Due to threats of violence from extreme left activists including the notorious Antifa, I was approached and asked if I could drive international speaker Kelly Jay and her security guards to park in Parliament House car park, for safer passage to and from the Parliament House steps. I sought and gained permission from Parliament services to do so.

The event was very ably organised by Angela Jones, a left-wing, pro-gay rights Jewish woman, who liaised with Victoria Police to arrange a buffer zone between her event and any counter protestors.

This is why I and the other attendees were horrified to see masked men all clad in black inside the buffer zone. We thought that we were going to be attacked. However, the police did not seem worried and were talking with them over at the edge of the line.

Later I saw the police seemingly usher these men right through the centre of the buffer zone in between our event and the counter protestors, which is when I saw those men raise their hands in a Hitler salute.

I, along with the few others who were facing them from the front were horrified, but relieved that the police were moving them on.

After the event I was informed that these masked men had in fact mounted Parliament House steps outside of our view on the other end and performed a Nazi salute, and that members of the SFW group asked the police to make them leave, but were informed that the Police had no powers to move them on due to Labor's removal of those powers.

The Let Women Speak event saw several women injured by the extreme left counter protestors who infiltrated the event. I was assaulted and injured, along with multiple other women, including one who was taken to hospital after being knocked unconscious. They also became violent with police and punched police horses, forcing the event to finish early. I condemn their actions should be condemned.

I condemn the actions of the masked men in black who were later identified as Neo-Nazis, who gate-crashed the Let Women Speak event. Most of the LWS supporters did not realise who they were until they were being escorted out by Victoria Police, when they did the despicable Nazi salute.

I completely reject the beliefs of National Socialists (Nazis) and I have seen first-hand the impact that the Holocaust had on a family member.

None of those organising the event had any involvement with these men, as has been confirmed by Victoria Police, the Australian Jewish Association and all the organisers themselves.

Yes, it's not Deeming's fault that she chose to associate with a known white supremacist, islamophobe and Nazi sympathiser who welcomed the presence of Nazis at her rally; it's not her fault she chose to stay and do nothing about the Nazis. She's just stupid, blame the men

Dr Kevin Donnelly AM @ESIAustralia · Mar 25, 2023

It's stupid, wrong and unfair if the Victorian Liberals under John Pesutto cancel Moira Deeming. In today's Herald Sun.

How not to solve a 'women' problem

AS SHOWN by the last federal election, it's obvious the Liberal Party has a women problem. Given the Opposition Leader John Pesutto's action in trying to cancel the upper house MP Moira Deeming, the problem is about to get a lot worse.

Deeming, like JK Rowling and Germaine Greer, is a staunch advocate defending the right girls and women have to use changing rooms, toilets and showers without boys and men self-identifying as females invading their space.

The sole purpose of the Let Women Speak rally was to argue how transgenderism presents a clear and present danger to girls and women and to highlight the need to act. It's unacceptable to allow people with penises (ie. men) into women's private spaces.

That the women's rally was invaded and hijacked by a group of misogynist Nazis had nothing to do with Deeming or those responsible for organising the rally.

If anything, it proves the dangers women face who stand up for their rights.

The argument put by Pesutto that Deeming must be penalised by the party room because she is associated with a person, who knew somebody who supposedly once knowingly shared a platform with a far-right activist is without substance, unconvincing and irrelevant.

KEVIN DONNELLY

Trying to smear a person's reputation by guilt by association, in addition to proving nothing about a person's convictions and beliefs, opens a Pandora's box where few in public life would evade scrutiny.

Given the widespread prevalence of social media and the fact a politician's job entails meeting so many people of different backgrounds in various contexts there is every chance incriminating evidence can be found.

In all the debate surrounding what many are calling the Deeming affair, ignored are the hundreds of loyal party workers and the more than 108,000 who voted for her in the last state election.

To win in a Labor stronghold deserves praise and support instead of being treated as an outcast. Also ignored is that many of those criticising Deeming are Liberals in name only (LINO) and what Alan Jones once described as bedwetters. They are concerned with safeguarding their own political careers and chasing the woke vote instead of standing up for conservative values.

Deeming is an easy target for such LINO as proven by her maiden speech where she advocated women's rights, criticised the Safe Schools program that teaches girls can be boys and boys can be girls and argued it's wrong to use the curriculum to impose woke ideology on vulnerable students.

If Deeming's political career is cancelled based on innuendo and hearsay it represents an all-time low for the party founded by Sir Robert Menzies, a true Liberal who believed in freedom of speech and the right each person has to justice.

Cancelling such a recently elected talented, intelligent and committed Liberal also proves to the public that rather than renewal, those in control are more concerned about protecting the old guard.
