How about

Tonight, the story of a promising young woman assaulted on a minister's couch inside Parliament House. SYNC "How many times did you tell him to stop? About six" Now she's being denied access to vital evidence because of archaic laws to protect our politicians. Chris, what is the ideal duration for a promo?

Sorry, I'm sure you all have other stories to deal with other than mine. But I'll carry on. Who will know how long we have for a promo? No point doing one too long or two short. And we should use grabs, Sam will have one in her story already, so I think we should have one. I'll come up with some options.

Hi Peter and Laura

CLP

Any ideas what others want for the promo?

CLP

CLP I'm just starting to put some ideas down.

Talking to Maiden this morning it sounds like she will call the alleged perp a "liberal staffer" but she will name the ministers he worked for.

So if we're doing a Monday promo maybe we give ourselves a few choices: 1) a promo of an alleged rape in parliament house; and 2) a promo of an alleged rape on Minister R's couch.

Afternoon

I'm doing a PTC with Lisa in Canberra tomorrow
afternoon.

There's an opportunity to record a promo in front of APH at the same time. Even if we didn't run it til Monday after the Sam story breaks it could be useful.
