Condolences to those who knew the Queen.

I cannot mourn the leader of a racist empire built on stolen lives, land and wealth of colonised peoples.

We are reminded of the urgency of Treaty with First Nations, justice & reparations for British colonies & becoming a republic.

THE HON TONY ABBOTT AC

My whole life, she said, shall be dedicated to your service, and Her Majesty the Queen was entirely true to that pledge.

We have lost an exemplar of duty, honour and faithfulness but deep thanks for her life should mingle with numbness and sadness at this loss.

Nine tenths of the world's people have known no other Queen. We can but hope the world might see her like again but none of us ever will.

Although I served the Australian people as prime minister, I was always conscious of a duty to her as sovereign. In this sense, I thought the crown lent a touch of dignity to our robust public life.

It is so typical of this remarkable woman that she was discharging her duty till her last day on this earth.

I'm sure God has saved this Queen and long live the King.
